Road improvements ok'd by county supervisors

BY LIZ HAAS
Road supervisor Sam Cuevas asked the board of supervisors in a Thursday workshop for authorization to begin planning county road improvements to be made in the spring funded by gaming revenues.

"I'd like an idea how much will be allocated for road improvements, and what specific areas will be worked on so I can start making plans. If I do this, we can be ready to start work when the money comes in," he said.

Supervisor Dolph Kellar said, "We need you to come up with a recommendation, then we will see if we can afford it in March when we know how much money we will have."

"First of all, we need to re-seal and overlay some of the roads before we do other roads that we can't maintain," said Supervisor Howard Lizana.

"I want to meet with each supervisor and take a ride with him through his district to decide exactly what needs to be done," said Cuevas.

Board president Mike Ladner said, "You can look at a half million dollars; but we're sure it's going to be about $1 million."

School board asks for tax reduction

BY LIZ HAAS
The Hancock County School Board amended the 1993-1994 budget and signed a resolution requesting the Hancock County Board of Supervisors lower the tax rate.

The school board will present the resolution to the supervisors in a Tuesday meeting, requesting they lower the rate from 41.96 mills to 40.96 mills.

The tax office had set the tax rate at 41.96 mills, based on July figures.

In July, the school board had not finalized the budget yet, but told the tax office to base the rate on last year's figures until sound figures were gathered by the school district, according to Superintendent Myrna Bourgeois.

Bourgeois had presented the supervisors a request for a one-mill reduction in school taxes on September 17, but the supervi-

Ongoing problems at St. Francis and Sycamore plague residents, officials

BY AMY PICKICH

Peterson said. "...and we have made numerous arrests there." Bay St. Louis Police Chief Frank McNeil said over the past few months he has made more than 30 arrests in two sting operations dealing basically with crack cocaine.

RESIDENTS COMPLAIN
Some area residents, who wished to remain anonymous, claim not enough is being done to stop the problems, which they say have gotten worse. Other residents say the problem is not worse, but that it is just being ignored by the police.

One resident said it took the police 35-40 minutes to arrive after she called about a shooting and fighting in the area.

Another resident said, "You can call the police, but they won't do anything about it."

McNeil said officers are monitoring the area, and they usually respond within 3 to 5 minutes.

One resident said, "Lately it has been a lot better because of the beer joint where they all hang out."

Another resident, who said she has lived in the area for over

"Almost all the cars had someone sitting on them, smoking dope and doing anything else they wanted to do. It was a public disgrace."

"Shortly after, we passed someone who began shooting." Alvina Nichols, a resident of the area, wrote in a letter to the editor, "why (do) the police let this mess go on?"

Hancock County Sheriff Ronnie Peterson said he has devoted much time to the area; in fact he said most arrests made over the past seven years have been in the vicinity of that particular corner.

"It's no secret; everybody knows it's always been a problem area for drug trafficking,"

More recently, he said arrests were made on Wednesday for gambling in the area.

McNeil said the arrests are being made, but many of these same people are out on bail with

Waveland board approves payroll deduction option for United Way

BY LIZ HAAS
The Waveland Board of Aldermen approved the option for employees to donate to the United Way through payroll deductions in a Wednesday meeting.

"They fell short of their goal last year by $4,000 and have asked us for help," said Mayor Stella Filrot.

Filrot explained that if employees of the city wanted to donate to the United Way, they could do so through payroll deductions.

"The people would have the individual decision of whether they want to give or not," she said.

Waveland Police Chief Jimmy Varnell came before the board regarding the installation of a stop sign at Waveland, Central and Sears avenues.

"We recently had an accident at that intersection and want to put a stop sign by Sears Avenue as it comes into Waveland Avenue," said Varnell.

"The problem is that people do not understand that it is a five-way stop there," said Filrot. The board approved to authorize the installation of a triangular concrete curving and a stop sign with high visibility yellow paint at Sears Avenue.

The board approved: —request by Bay Youth Football Association for the city to sponsor a team for $500;

—adoption of the Mississippi Drug Testing Consortium revised policy for employees;

—proclamation declaring the week of October 24 as "National Consumers Week," as requested by the Mississippi Attorney General.

Methodist Church plans new stewardship program

Special to the Echo
 Main Street United Methodist Church in Bay St. Louis has begun using a new stewardship campaign, entitled "Celebrate Together."

The ten-week program is provided by the denomination as a new emphasis on Christian stewardship. Unique to this program is an emphasis on group settings.

Every member of the church will be invited to a gathering that will celebrate the church's achievements of the past as well as plans for the coming year of 1994 and beyond. Each person will have an opportunity to make a commitment of themselves and their resources to the success of the church's program.

The program will end Nov. 7 and a "Celebration Sunday" will be held during the worship service. This will be followed by the annual "Harvest Dinner" in the church's new multi-purpose building on Nov. 21.

Historic old Main Street church has long used the same methods of securing financial commitments, recruiting of volunteers for positions of leadership, and making plans for the next year. This departure from those traditional methods marks a totally different approach for the church.

The church will soon be celebrating the opening of their new building and the public will be invited. The building is constructed for the purpose of providing service and ministry to the community.

Numerous activities are already planned for its use that will include support groups, special dinners, activities for all age levels and meetings of existing organizations in the church.

I'll Never Forget

I'll Never Forget, the first day I met you.

It was real love at first sight.

I never thought I would lose you like I did, as soon as I did.

I'll Never Forget the first birthday cake I made for you, your 21st.

I'll Never Forget the last birthday cake I will make for you, your 30th.

I'll Never Forget the eight wonderful years we shared together (good and bad times).

I'll Never Forget, the one terrible year we were separated. I was lonely, like now. (Empty).

I'll Never Forget the day you became a proud father. It was the best day of your life.

I'll Never Forget the night God took you from me, took you to his wonderful world.

GONE BUT NOT FORGOTTEN

I thank God every day for the part of you he gave to us.

We treasure your son so much.

I feel you with us every day, except Sundays. Why?

We don't know or understand. Why?

We don't understand a lot of things.

We have so many questions to be answered.

We know one day those unanswered questions will be answered.

One day when God calls us home and you greet us with a smile and welcome us home with you.

We try to be strong, but sometimes we get weak and we must grieve.

If we could only see your smile, hear your laugh one more time.

If we could have only known what would happen that forgotten night, the night God called you home.

You will always be missed and loved by us.

I miss you more and more every day.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

Every year about this time I receive a telephone call or two from subscribers complaining about students on bicycles running stops signs, etc.

It seems that this usually happens in the afternoon when school is out and students are in a big hurry to get home.

A few days ago a Bay St. Louis subscriber who resides close to a four-way stop intersection called to tell me how students run full-speed through it each afternoon.

This is very dangerous, as someone could be injured or killed running the intersection without stopping as required by law.

I telephoned Bay Police Chief Frank McNeil and he asked me to remind students on bicycles they are to observe the same 'rules of the road' as motorists do.

The chief urges all youngsters to be careful and handle their bicycles in a safe manner.

On another item, I received a letter from a subscriber who wanted to remain anonymous about a motorist problem he fears in Bay St. Louis.

The writer feels all motorists, no matter their age, should observe speed limits throughout the city.

Apparently this person is retired, as the letter stated, "...All summer long, I sat on my front porch just watching traffic. You would not believe the outrageous speeds of some of these vehicles. There were even a few that were traveling so fast you could barely see the color of the vehicle..."

Chief McNeil indicated his department is monitoring traffic speeds and has been issuing speeding tickets.

Most streets in Bay St. Louis has a speed limit of 25 miles per hour.

A few areas and school zones also have reduced speeds.

Please drive carefully.

As most of you know, the United Way of South Mississippi has kicked-off its 1993 campaign with a goal of $1 million.

The United Way of South Mississippi covers Hancock, Harrison and Pearl River counties.

Clay Wagner, a Hancock Bank loan officer, is the Hancock County campaign chairman, and has been busy getting his cabinet together to begin the local campaign.

The only way for our goal to be reached is to have the participation of all our residents.

Some 49 agencies are funded by the United Way of South Mississippi and as this year's theme, You Can Make A Difference, has a lot of truth in it.

The help of everyone is needed, no matter the contribution.

If you would like to have more information, call the United Way at 467-9501, or send a contribution to: The United Way of South Mississippi, P.O. Box 1172, Gulfport, MS 39502.

I received a letter the other day from my cousin, Milton J. Cuevas, formerly of Bay St. Louis and now residing in the state of New Jersey.

M.J. sent me a news release on his son, Milton J. Cuevas II, a auditor at MetroBank, Indianapolis, who has been promoted to assistant vice president with the company.

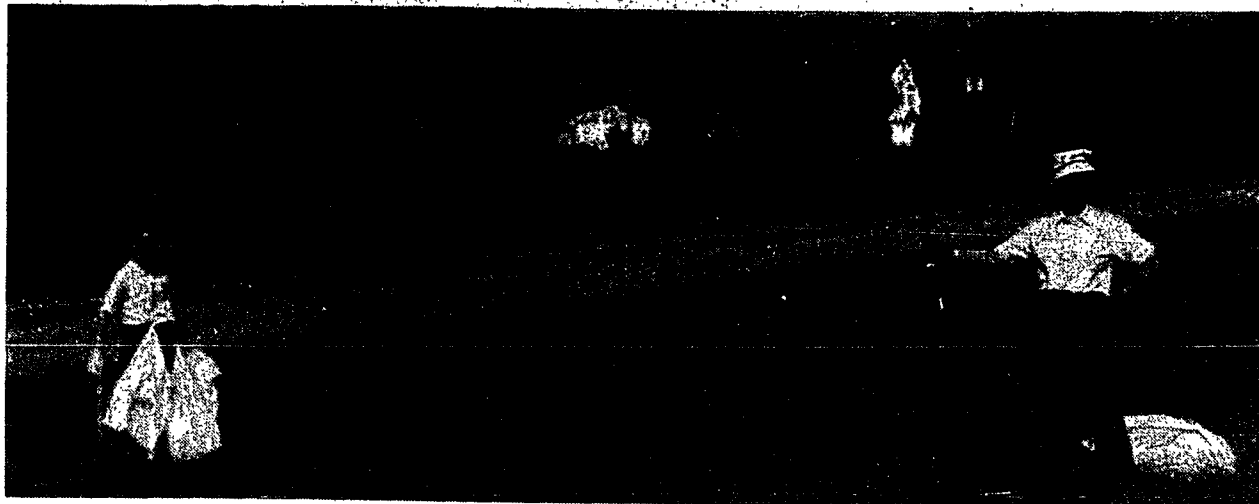

The younger cousin is a 1988 graduate of the University of Mississippi at Oxford, and I offer him congratulations on his promotion.

It has been a few years since his father has been to Bay St. Louis, so I do not see them too often.

Cleanup a success

The county-wide cleanup sponsored by the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's Beautification Committee involved over 500 volunteers. At left, Hancock High's Rotary Interact members register at Diamondhead. Cindy Vernon, left, chamber executive director and Pat Cucullu, chamber director, were among a group to collect litter on the chamber's adopted two miles of Highway 607, near the Welcome Center. The interchange was cleaned by Johnson Control and employees of NASA.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Sycamore, St. Francis must be freed from loiterers, crime

To the Editor:

As I begin to write this letter, I am very angry. Friday night, while two friends and I were driving on St. Francis and Sycamore streets, a big dice game was going on. (This goes on every weekend).

About 25 people in a double ring were surrounding the guy with the dice. There is a bar on the corner we all call the Big 5.

It is large enough to hold at least 100 people. There were about 20 cars in the yard and more around the streets. Almost all the cars had someone sitting on them smoking dope and doing anything else they wanted to do. It was a public disgrace.

Shortly after we passed, someone began shooting. The people who live in that area are afraid and fed up. These people are elderly and sick. They deserve to live in peace.

That spot has been bad for a long time, but now it is worse than ever.

I want to know why the police are letting this mess go on. I hope it's not because of that incident that happened on Sycamore Street with the children. Some of those same children were on that corner. I'd hate to believe that incident gave the police a reason to let these people do anything they want to do.

When are the officials going to realize that it's not only black men out there? It's children, women, white girls and boys, also a few white women and men make daily visits to the corner.

I thought the city had enough with the last killing we had in that area. The priests and preachers and do-gooders went back there to claim the corner back from the druggies for about an hour. Later on it's business as usual and has been ever since.

Does anyone care anymore? Are the people who are paid to do this job afraid to do what is right?

I was on my way to be with the grieving family of Bennie Singleton, councilman Thomas Farve was at the home when we arrived. He had to pass the same way we did, and I'm sure he saw what was happening. Why didn't he call the police? It was his duty. There have been many meetings about what to do about this situation. Nothing ever comes out of these meetings except time wasted.

All the people out there in these streets are not from this community. They are coming from everywhere. Why? Because they know they can get away with anything they want to.

This town is too small for our officials to not be able to control the whole city. The solutions to this problem is very simple. All that's needed is for the mayor, our councilmen and our police to do what they are supposed to do.

About the incident with the children on Sycamore Street, I want the officials to know that not everyone was against the police. I feel they did what they had to do at the time.

All those children's mothers who did not know where their children were or what they were doing, should have been glad someone was trying to send their children home. Now all the officials have to do is the same thing on the corner.

Improper tags, cable service are big problems

Dear Editor,

I would like to bring to the attention of our community two matters:

First, I want to welcome the citizens who have moved here from other states like Texas, Nevada, New Jersey, Iowa and other places to help take advantage of our newly-found wealth—the casinos and the construction that go with it.

I am not knocking the jobs and revenue that is being brought in, all I want them to do is purchase Hancock County-Mississippi car tags, which I do not see on many cars and trucks that are dropping children off at the public schools in the morning.

Hey, if you guys come to town to make the bacon, you should help pay for the pig.

Car tags are not what I would consider inexpensive, but revenues are going to help pay for that child's education you have just dropped off this morning. Besides, our schools were not overcrowded last year. Hey, you can not say you just moved here, because your children have been in school now for over a month now.

When you move, you have 30 days to get your new tag. Officers should be aware of this when they run radar in the morning in and around school zones. It is a good idea to have the radar for the safety of our children.

As I go around every day, it seems everybody is very upset with the cable company. It seems like we are supporting this company (Cablevision) that just does not give a care for consumers. It seems like they repair the cable and everything is going to be all right, then the nightmare begins again. Especially is you wanted to watch that ballgame that's only on ESPN, or that special on A&E, or that movie that is only going to be shown once in the time spot that you can watch without taking off from work or waking up in the middle of the night to see.

I have decided to do something. I would like the new members of our community to purchase new car tags. Tags are less expensive now than they were a year ago, and besides, most of the money goes now toward the school system.

If enough of our citizens complain to our city and county officials, they will start giving out tickets, which are $250 plus you still have to purchase the tag. Do it, it may even reduce the tag price even more.

In regard to the cable company, we need to tell everybody that we need another cable company. Call the Attorney General's Consumer Affairs at 1-359-3680. They will mail a complaint form. Tell your city councilman, your alderman, your mayor and your neighbor.

We need to start a petition or everybody boycott the system. I know someone from the cable company will write the Echo and say how they are upgrading and such; I just wish they would repair the cable as fast as they answer letters to the editor.

Sincerely,
Kelvin J. Schulz
Bay St. Louis.

IN CONGRESS

By Rep. Gene Taylor

Just say no to 'NAFTA'

"You can't paint it. You can't bond it. And you certainly can't add anything else to the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) to make me vote for it." — U.S. Rep. Gene Taylor's response to Mississippi reporters' questions concerning NAFTA.

In the last few weeks the President has made an all-out attempt to blitz the American airwaves with praises of NAFTA, and the supposed utopia the agreement would create for U.S. business and labor if only the Congress would take the necessary steps to see that the agreement is passed.

When someone tells you, "Don't worry, everything is going to be fine," you then begin to wonder if you're really going to be okay. The truth of the matter is that there will surely be winners and losers should Canada, Mexico and the U.S. create the world's largest free trade zone by removing virtually all trade barriers.

Let's be realistic. Some states will win and some states will lose. According to a recent economic policy study, the top industries most likely to suffer are the apparel, furniture, food processing, electrical machinery, motor vehicle equipment, glass, brick, cement and other manufacturing industries.

If you look closely, each of us know someone who is involved in one of the manufacturing industries listed above. The pine forests of our state have meant jobs for generations of tree harvesters. Mississippi is known as one of the best manufacturers of furniture in the country. And our state's textile manufacturers are second to none. There are no two ways about it. If manufacturing loses, Mississippi loses. If Mississippi loses, the nation loses.

Heightened competition from low-wage Mexican workers in textiles, furniture and manufactured goods will rob business and jobs from Mississippi.

I would not object to NAFTA so strongly if American businesses could operate on the same footing as Mexican businesses. But we can't. We have federal mandates such as workman's compensation, OSHA laws and minimum wage. Mexican officials may say they have federal mandates, but if they do, they are seldom enforced.

We can not have mandates mixed with free trade and expect our country to compete with a country where people get paid .52 cents an hour without any benefits. It's just not going to work.

If we lose any more of our nation's manufacturing base we will no longer be the world's greatest nation. And though I have said it once, I can't emphasize it enough that if manufacturing loses, Mississippi loses. If Mississippi loses, the nation loses.

mation on getting a county-wide mapping program for the computers," said Murtagh. Bennett said they are getting four vendors to fly the county, put in ground control for identification, then scan all the maps.

The four proposals will then be taken to Stennis Space Center, which is assisting in the project. Bennett said it would be a lease-purchase deal and the information would be converted to the new program.

"We are exploring some federal funds. There is about a $200,000 difference between what we need to do and what we can get by with," said Lee.

Murtagh said, "There is a possibility the government will pay for 60 percent of the aerial and mapping program."

"We would like to spend more money and wind up with a better product," said Bennett.

Murtagh said the tax office would return to the supervisors as soon as all the facts and figures are gathered.

PARKING

Ellis Cuevas, publisher of The Sea Coast Echo, discussed county parking on Echo property.

"There are about 35 total parking spaces along the area by the Youth Court building and behind our building that are used by county employees and people doing county business," said Cuevas.

He said, "We have provided parking for the county since 1979. A lot of people thought that lot belonged to the county until we recently had it paved and marked for our parking."

"I don't feel it's unrealistic for us to ask the county to pay us a rental fee for spaces along the side and back of our lot," he said.

"Are you willing to sell that to us? That's the only way I see to resolve the issue," said Kellar.

Cuevas said the owners are not interested in selling.

Board attorney Gerald Gex previously wrote the attorney general requesting for an opinion on the legality of the county renting the parking spaces.

"I don't see a problem of renting it if we get a positive response from the attorney general," said Ladner.

Cuevas asked for $300 a month.

Peterson said, "I think we need to look into finding another site where we could pay that much to own it. I'm always in favor of buying instead of renting. That's kind of steep for 35 spaces."

The board told Cuevas he would be contacted at a later date about the matter.

FAMILY CHILD CENTER

Susan Richards with the Family Child Center and Marie Porter, member of the board of directors for the center, asked the supervisors for additional funding.

"You budgeted $2,500 for us in the 1993-1994 fiscal year, the same as in the past. We asked for $7,500. Now we ask you to consider giving us additional funding," said Porter.

Porter said the grant for the CASA (Court Appointed Special Advocates for Children) program, which handles Hancock County alone, is going to be cut.

"We are going to have to cease the program without additional funding," she said.

Porter said the center needs at least $2,380 for the end of the fiscal year, July, August and September, 1994.

"Our aim is to cut into the cycle. We teach intervention and prevention," she said.

Richards said she believes gambling can be a positive force for the community.

"However, since gambling came into the area, we have had a lot more reports of people leaving their children alone and hocking things to gamble," said Richards.

CAFETERIA PLAN

Tommy Nicholson of AFLAC (American Family Life Assurance Company of Columbus) gave the board a proposal for county insurance.

Nicholson said AFLAC, headquartered in Columbus, Ga., has been working in this county for 25 years.

The cost is about $18 per month for clerical and administrative and $24.84 for blue collar workers.

parked cars, more trash and loud, obscene music.

"Never have I seen it like it is now. It's terrible. No other part of Bay St. Louis is like this...and it's only getting worse," she said.

McNeil said he disputes the fact that the situation has gotten worse. He said it is an ongoing problem, but it has improved. He said he has even received some calls from residents thanking him.

McNeil said his department will implement "innovative methods" soon to alleviate some problems, and undercover operation are ongoing. He also said better street lighting will soon be installed to improve problems in the area.

McNeil said in some instances his hands are tied, but he does what he can within the law.

OPEN CONTAINER LAW

He said he supports an open container law in Bay St. Louis that would prohibit people from drinking in the streets and on the corner. He said this would be a big help to alleviate much of the littering, loitering and noise.

"We need citizens' help with specific details and to back us up in order to work harder on the situation at hand," McNeil said.

"Don't just call us to come out there and then hang up. We need specifics," he said.

He also encourages citizens to file an affidavit identifying perpetrators if they witness misdemeanors or crimes less than a felony because the police cannot see everything that is happening.

He said that once an affidavit is filed, a judge can issue a warrant for the perpetrators to be picked up by the police.

McNeil said "a combined effort of the community is needed" to help the situation.

"We are not forgetting the problem," Chief McNeil said. "We are aware of the problem. We are still continuing to work on it, and we will continue to do our best to keep it under control."

Councilman Thomas Favre said he believes the problem is getting worse and that more patrol in the area is needed. He said the city has a plan in the making to help the situation, including the open container law.

"Something needs to be done immediately," Favre said. "The people there are just fed up."

planned to entertain younger children.

Chef John Chapman, owner of Chappy's Seafood Restaurant of Long Beach, will be on hand to serve his popular Cajun fare. Closer to home, Bernard and Shawn Tusa will mark their sixth year of manning the barbecue pit at the Western booth.

Assisted by Kay and Dutch Kihneman, the Tusas will be dishing up barbecue sausage, chicken, baked beans and potato salad for $4.50 per plate, with individual items priced under $2. A "secret recipe" sauce guarantees success, said Shawn Tusa.

Another returning favorite is Kennedys' booth, where proprietor Basil Kennedy may be heard shouting, "Buy American!" With his wife, Weezie, Chef Kennedy serves up his own recipe of red beans and rice, hamburgers, hot dogs and all the trimmings.

With a little coaxing, this recipe was released for publication:

BASIL'S

RED BEANS & RICE

2 lbs. Camellia brand red beans (You can use others at your own risk)

12-16 cups water
4 onions
1 pod garlic
4 stalks celery
2 bay leaves
1 bell pepper (optional)
2 lbs. ham diced with ham bone if available—pickled pork is good also Smoked sausage (at least 1 lb.)
1 tsp. thyme
Salt and pepper to taste
A little of anything else that you have around that will enhance the flavor—hot sauce, Worcestershire sauce, etc. depending on your taste buds.
First and foremost, it is most important that the reader understand that the above measurements are approximate. The writer doesn't have a measuring cup or spoons. It's just some of this and some of that until it all looks right and tastes right.

Saute the onions in the bacon grease (drippings). The drippings are most important for both flavor and consistency—I learned this secret from the best red bean cook in the land.

When the onions are soft and almost clear, add the celery, bell pepper and bay leaves and continue until it is all reasonably soft.

Add the beans dry and let them saute and absorb the flavors. Add water, remembering that you can always add more. When it comes to a boil, let it cook on a slow simmer for about 3-6 hours—stir occasionally. After about four hours, cream a few beans by mashing them between your stirring spoon and the side of the pot, adding water as necessary. Salt and pepper to taste.

It's not ready to eat yet! If you can't wait, you can have some now. The best beans must now be refrigerated or frozen at least overnight (beans are never great on the first day). When reheating, you must be careful not to burn—remember the beans on the bottom are getting all of the heat. After about another two hours they'll be just about right. Add the garlic and cook a little more. The more they cook, the better they'll be.

Taste and adjust as necessary. Remember, you can add water to the right consistency. Also, I like to brown my sausage in a separate pan and then throw everything from that pan into the beans. The sausage will add to the flavor. This should not be done until just before serving, as the sausage will get soft.

For the rice, just put a lot of water in a pot with some salt and add the rice. Bring to a slow boil and cook until the rice is just right—take a kernel and chew it—you'll know when it's right. Strain it in a colander and then put over pot of water to steam until you are ready to eat.

When serving, just dish out the rice and spoon on some beans, being sure to at least get one small piece of sausage. Serve with garlic bread (for good garlic bread, soften butter or margarine and press in garlic pods—when you think you have enough, add some more—then spread on French bread and toast).

Bon appetit!

sors had already set the tax rate on September 15, as required by law.

The supervisors have said they can amend the school district's tax rate if they received a proposal by September 30.

"The supervisors can equate these figures and adopt them into the county budget," said Steve Benvenuti, school board attorney.

Bourgeois said the lower rate would be about a $98,000 difference.

The tax receipts for October have already been printed based on the millage the tax office had.

Tax Collector Eddie Murtagh has stated he can make the necessary changes for October car tag bills.

Hornets sting Tigers 34-14

BY TRACI BONNEY

The Bay High Tigers went on the road again Friday, but this time they encountered no declared Wildcats. This week they ran into a Hornets' nest. The Tigers, 2-1, going into Friday night's contest, played visitor to the 3-0 East Central Hornets in the Bay's first division game of the 1993 season. Before the game, a Hornet fan claimed the home team had scored 100 points in its first three games and had only 8 points scored against it. However, he admitted, "We don't know if we're good. We haven't really played anybody yet."

Fans on both sides found out just how good the Hornets were in the hard-fought 4-A match-up. Although they didn't dominate the ball any more than the Tigers did, they made more efficient use of their possession time.

The first quarter was more than halfway over before either team scored. The Hornets had possession of the ball for the second time that quarter when East Central powerhouse Chad Huff took a pitch from quarterback Rob Roberts and ran the ball left for a 77-yard touchdown. With a successful point-after kick, the score was 7-0 with 5:03 on the clock.

The Tigers rallied with a drive that ate up most of the remaining time and ended with quarterback Sam Sheppard bulging his way over the goal line for 6. The PAT attempt failed, making it 7-6 with 1:34 left in the quarter.

The first quarter ended with the Hornets in possession. They kept the ball for the first two minutes of the second quarter before Roberts scored on a quarterback keeper to the left. The PAT was good, and the Hornets led 14-6 with 9:47 remaining in the first half.

Later in the quarter, after the ball had changed sides four times, the Hornets again made it across the goal line to cap a 13-play drive with an 8-yard TD pass reception by Hornet Donnie Wallace. The point-after attempt was no good, and the score stood at 20-6 with 26 seconds left in the half.

The Tigers would not make a touchdown again until the fourth quarter, but the Hornets would finish scoring in the third. Penalties set both teams back, but particularly plagued the Tigers.

The Hornets stung again early in the third quarter, making a touchdown and successful point-after kick 3½ minutes into the period.

After taking the kick, the Tigers held onto the ball for six plays, but turned it over to the Hornets, who promptly scored. Running from midfield, Hornet Mike Mayfield gained four yards on the first play of the possession, and 46 yards on the out the clock, then headed across the field to congratulate their opponents on a hard-played game.

Tiger head coach Rocky Gaudin commented after the game, "I was disappointed that we didn't play better. We had a good game, but we let the first half get away from us and made some mistakes in the second. "East Central is a tough team, one of the top in the division. But I told the players all our division games are going to be tough.

"We just had a bad night, but that's football. You have some good games and some bad ones." The 2-2 Tigers play St. Martin in Bay High's homecoming, and the school's second division contest, Friday night. Kickoff is at 7:30.

second to score. With a good point-after kick, the Hornets set their score at 34-6 with 4:26 left in the quarter.

The Tigers kept the ball for the rest of the third quarter, and scored their second touchdown only seven seconds into the fourth. On third down and 11, Sheppard completed a 16-yard pass to Xavier "Cricket" Lewis for 6. A 2-point conversion bumped the score to 34-14.

The Hornets ran 8½ minutes off the clock in their next possession before turning the ball over to the Tigers at their own 11. The Tigers tried to move the ball, but were pushed back to the 6 and forced to punt.

With only 2:16 left to play, the Hornets had the ball and the win in their hands. They ran

Pirates clip Rocks 16-13

Special to The Echo
BY JOSEPH GEX

The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws remained winless in the season with a tough 16-13 loss to the Pass Christian Pirates Friday night.

The Rocks scored first and held a 13-0 lead until Pass Christian scored a field goal with only one second left on the clock in the first half, making the score 13-3.

The Pirates chipped away at the lead until the middle of the fourth quarter when they scored their go-ahead touchdown.

The Rocks won the kickoff and deferred to the second half. The Rock defense came out swarming and shut down the Pirates on their first series. The defense allowed minimal gains before a Mike Downing tackle in the backfield that forced the Pirates to punt the ball.

The Rocks received the punt but could not do anything with the ball. After a moderate gain by Nathan Middleton, the Rocks punted back to the Pirates, who received a little momentum during this possession.

After minimal gains up the middle, Pirate workhorse Lionel Alexander busted loose around the left end for a huge 28-yard gain and a first down. Alexander became the Pirates' key man, rushing for 118-yards on 29 carries. The Rock defense allowed moderate gains and the Pirates drove into Rock territory.

The Rock defense, led by Rocky Sapia, held firm and kept the Pirates out of the end-zone. On their first pass attempt of the night, Pass quarterback Jessie Bryant was intercepted by Nathan Middleton at the Rock 23-yardline.

The Rocks had hard running from fullback Chris Middleton, tailbacks Nathan Middleton and Corey Charles. The Rock offense gained two first downs, but stalled at mid-field and had to punt to the Pirates.

Pass workhorse Lionel Alexander gained a first down, but was stuffed into the backfield on the next play by linebacker Rocky Sapia. The Pirates had to punt.

On this possession, the Rocks drove 52-yards for the score. After being sacked for a 9-yard loss, Rock field general Correy Gex came back with a shovel pass to Nathan Middleton for a gain of 22-yards and a first down.

The Rocks ate up yardage with moderate gains from Chris Middleton. With 6:43 to go in the second quarter, Gex put the Rocks on the board with a 22-yard scamper around the left end. The PAT by Allen Schaefer was good, making the score 7-0.

"It really pumped the offense up, but the defense had more intensity because they wanted to protect the lead and give the offense another chance," Gex said about the Rocks first lead of the year.

With the ensuing kickoff, Rock intensity picked up. The Pirates were up against a brick wall. The defense, led by Rocky Sapia and Mike Downing, held the Pirates to three plays and a punt.

When the offense came out, the Rocks ran into trouble. On the first play of the series, Gex was intercepted by Keith Anderson.

However, the Pirate offense ran into trouble when SSC's

Alex Perez took the handoff in the backfield giving the Rocks the ball back.

The Rocks took over on the Pass 18-yardline. The Rocks chipped away with Gex on a keeper for 5-yards and freshman Corey Charles for a gain of 10-yards and a first down.

With about two minutes left in the first half, Chris Middleton went off-tackle for the Rocks second TD of the half. The two point conversion attempt was no good, making the score 13-0.

The Rock defense came out swarming and forced the Pirates to punt from their own 1-yardline.

However, the Rock offense couldn't keep it going. Gex was intercepted for the second time this half by Keith Anderson.

The Pirates, led by Alexander, drove down the field into Rock territory. With 1 second remaining in the half, the Pirates' Lawrence Hampton kicked a 20-yard field goal making the score 13-3.

The Rocks got off to slow start in the second half and had to punt to the Pirates.

The Pirate offense came out smoking. They drove down the field behind the running of Alexander.

With 8:30 left in the third quarter, Pass quarterback Kevin Clark threw a 30-yard TD pass to Leonard Ward. The two point conversion attempt failed making the score 13-9.

The Rocks took the ensuing kickoff at their own 32-yardline.

The Rocks kept their drive alive with moderate gains from Gex, Nathan Middleton, Corey Charles and Chris Middleton. However, the drive ended when Gex was sacked on a sprint-out pass.

The Rock defense kept making the plays to keep the offense in the game.

The Rocks, led by Sapia and Esters, held the Pirates to three plays and then they had to punt away.

The Rock offense began to sputter. They could not get anything to go their way and had to punt to the Pirates.

The Pirates put together a 11-play drive that ate a chunk of time off the clock, only to be denied the goal-line by the Rock defense.

Alexander sliced his way through the Rock defense for moderate gains, but the Pirates still had to punt the ball.

On the next offensive series, the Rocks spread the field. They sent receivers to one side and the offensive line to the other.

Nathan Middleton's pass was batted down and intercepted by Chris Jacobs. This gave the ball to the Pass on the Rock 5-yardline.

On the next play, Lionel Alexander scampered up the middle for a 5-yard touchdown run. The PAT attempt by Lawrence Hampton was good, making the score 16-13 with 6:29 to go in the game.

On their next possession, the Rocks completed an 11-yard pass from Gex to Jason Mayer for a first down but had to punt to the Pirates.

The Pirate offense sputtered. They had to punt right back to the Rocks. On this possession the Rocks drove into Pirate territory behind the tough running of Nathan Middleton and a 10-yard completion from Gex to Bobby Williams.

The Rocks' Allen Schaefer attempted a 49-yard field goal that was short.

The Rock defense enabled the offense to get the ball back with less than a minute left in the game.

Gex completed a pass to Nathan Middleton for a gain of 17-yards. As time expired, there was an incomplete pass to Mayer.

er. The final score was 16-13.

"We got all the breaks in the first half but in the second half they got all the breaks. It was a tough loss for us," the SSC coaching staff said.

The Rocks get back into district play when they travel to D'Iberville next Friday.

Hancock victors over Northshore

The Hancock Hawks stopped a fourth quarter comeback pass from quarterback Scotty Davis. The second came from a 7-yard run and the third from a 9-yard pass, again from Davis. Hancock had 211 yards offensively to Northshore's 122, with 119-yards rushing and 92-yards passing.

The Hawks led the Panthers 20-3 in the first half, with Hancock's Lance Wedgeworth scoring three straight touchdowns in the first half.

The first was a 26-yard TD

Next Friday night the Hawks will travel to Long Beach to take on the Bearcats.
